

Week 1 questions for reflection or discussion

How can we better appreciate and respect the different expressions of Christianity in our community, especially during this season of Lent?

What misconceptions or stereotypes about faith or others might we hold, and how can we challenge and transform them through our Christian lens?

How can we practice cultural humility and celebrate the diversity of Christian practices as part of our walk with Christ?

In what ways can we actively listen to children and young people about their faith, ensuring they feel safe, valued, and heard?

Where do you see signs of hope and renewal in your church or faith community during this season of reflection, and how can we support that transformation?

How can we engage more intentionally with projects and activities in our neighborhood to live out our faith and make a tangible difference in others' lives?
